SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1. 1737.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Constantinople, July 17. O. S.

PERSIAN Ambassador arrived here from Thamas Kouli Kan, about a Fortnight ago, with magnificent Presents from that Prince for the Grand Seigneur, and particularly an Elephant of extraordinary Beauty. We are assur'd, moreover, that in a Private Audience which he had of his Highness, who received him with great Distinction, he delivered him a Letter from Kouli Kan. The Grand Seigneur has not only settled a considerable Sum upon this Minister for his Maintenance, but sent him fine Presents; which, together with the Honours that have been paid him since his Arrival, leave no Room to doubt, that his Commission is very agreeable to the Porte. This Court so much depends upon the Continuance of a Peace with Kouli Kan, that Orders are sent to 10,000 Men on the Frontiers of Persia, to march forthwith, and join those that have been already detach'd from thence for Europe: And 'tis rumoured here, that most of the Persian Troops will shortly receive Orders to hold themselves in a Readiness for a March, to be employ'd in Favour of the Turks. The Porte does not seem to expect great Matters from the Congress at Nimrow.

Petersburg, Sept. 6. O. S. If the Conditions of Peace proposed to the Porte are not accepted, which begins to be much doubted, the Court has resolved to prosecute the War with Vigour, and for that End has ordered 40,000 Men to be raised for completing Count Munich's Army; and for this Purpose the 125th Man out of the Czarina's Subjects will be impress'd, out of which Number the Monks are not to be excepted; it being the Opinion of the Court, that besides the Prayers which their Vocation obliges them to put up for the Glory and Prosperity of the State, they may also contribute to it in another Manner, by carrying Arms for the Defence of that Government which has so long provided for their Maintenance: And upon this Occasion a Rule has been made, that all Fryars under 30 Years of Age, shall be obliged to serve as Common Soldiers, as soon as they receive the Order, but that after the War is over they shall be at Liberty to resume the Monk's Habit, unless they chuse rather to wear that of the Soldier.

The Court has received Advice, that the Regiments of Guards, and some of the Dragoons belonging to Count Munich's Army, are gone to their Winter-Quarters in the Ukraine, and have carry'd with them all the Turks that they took Prisoners at Ochakow; the chief of whom are, The Seraskier who commanded there, the Son of the late Bashaw of Asoph, a Son of the Bashaw Achmet who commanded the Ottoman Army in Persia, and several Officers of Distinction; by whom we learn, that the Aga of the Janisaries was killed in the Defense of Ochakow, at which he was present in person. The many Hands employed in repairing and augmenting the Fortifications of that Place, and in storing the Magazines with Ammunition and Provisions, and the reinforcing the Garison with 1200 Men, as well as supplying the Works with a greater Number of Artillery, shews that our Court is resolved to preserve that Conquest; which seems to be more secure by the Taking of Kimburn, which is at no great Distance from it. More than all this, the Court, at Count Munich's Request, has ordered the College of War to prepare 1,700,000 Beams, Planks, &c. to be sent thither, not only for the Repair of that City, but for the Building of several new Ships; and Vice-Admiral Sinawin is to set out thither in a Day or two, with 29 Officers of the Marine, and 800 Seamen, the Russian Flotilla being to continue there all the Winter: And Orders are given likewise for mending the Roads betwixt that City and Moscow, by the Soldiers of the neighbouring Garisons.

While the Van of Count Munich's Army was returning to the Ukraine, they had Advice that a great Body of the Crim Tartars, under the Command of one of their Sultans, was advancing to harrahs the rest of the Army, when they quitted the Banks of the Bog; whereupon all the Cossacks of Saporovia were sent out to meet those Tartars, who upon the first Notice of their Coming took Flight. The Budziack Tartars often appeared in very great Numbers, while the Russian Army continued on the other Side of the Bog; and since its passing that River, one of their Detachments, consisting of above 500 Men, endeavoured to surprize the Russian Cavalry, as they were foraging, but were vigorously repulied by the Cossacks of the Don.

The Persian Ambassador who resides here has notify'd to the Court, that his Master Kouli Kan had not only suppress'd the Rebels on the Frontiers of Tartary, but besieged Candahar, the Capital City of the Province of that Name, after having beat a great Body of the Rebels, that would have prevented his Passage into that Country. This Ambassador added, that the Great Mogul had lent a Solemn Embassy to Kouli Kan, to recognize him as Sophi of Persia, and that the latter has also dispatched an Ambassador to Constantinople.

The last Advices from General Lascy's Army say, that he was encamped on the Banks of the River Molotni-Wodi, which falls into that called the Muddy Sea, where he is advantageously posted to keep the Tartars in Awe, and hinder their Incursions. He has 10,000 Prisoners with him, that he took in his late Expedition into the Crim.

They write from Asoph, that the Cuban Tartars taking Advantage of the Absence of the Cossacks of the Don, who had for most Part followed General Lascy in his Expedition into the Crim, passed the Don, plundered and burnt several Villages, and carried a great many Women and Children into Slavery; but the Cossacks who stay'd behind in the Country, mounting their Horses with all Speed, pursu'd and overtook the Tartars, kill'd a great Number of them, and retook Part of their Booty.

General Munich was still encamped, on the 3d of August, O. S. on the Banks of the River Jugul, on this Side the Bog. Three Days after he had passed the latter, he made a Grand Entertainment for the Princes of Wolfembutte, Hesse, and all the General Officers, to which he also invited his noble Prisoner, the Turkish Seraskier, who then took an Opportunity to say, That he could not have thought the Russians were such fine Troops, and that at Constantinople they entertained quite another Notion of them: And being told that those Troops were as brave as they were fine, he reply'd that the Loss of his Liberty was one Proof of their Valour.

Vienna, Sept. 14. O. S. We are assured that the Emperor has concluded a Treaty with the Elector of Bavaria, whereby the latter is to furnish him with 12,000 Men. Count Seckendorf's Army consisting of 34 Battalions and 70 Squadrons, is marching in one Column, and was expected about 3 Days ago in the Neighbourhood of Ufizza, where 15 or 16,000 Men are incamped under the Cannon of that Place, who if they stand their Ground, we may soon expect to hear News of an Engagement.

Naas, Sept. 18. A sad Accident happened to one Clark, who was sinking a Pump at a Gentleman's House near Naas; an Hat accidentally dropping into the Well after it had been clear'd out, a Man ty'd to a Rope was let down for it, but perceiving a Vapour and Damp, cried out, and was immediately drawn up, but in a very weak Condition; in a little time after, Clark imagining the Damp was gone, went down

To Persons of either Sex

Afflicted with any Species of the PALSY, or other NERVOUS DECAYS.

NEVER were NERVOUS DISEASES

PALSIES, and PARALYTICK DISORDERS so frequent as of late they have been, nor have the usual Remedies been found adequate to those pertinacious Disorders: This occasioned a Physician, who employ'd his Thoughts much concerning them, to adapt a Medicine, a Sovereign Elixir, peculiar to, and effectual for, the Palsy, and all other nervous Complaints now reigning, which after he had experienced vast Numbers of Persons of both Sexes, and always with surprising Success, even so as infallibly to cure by it the Palsy, and all Paralytick Effects and Nervous Disorders, he permitted it to be made publick for a general Good, that so those labouring under these miserable Affections, might know where to meet with a safe and most certain Cure, which it accomplishes in so short a Time, and with such Ease and Pleasure (a few Drops of it being a Dose, highly agreeable to the Palate, and comforting to the Stomach and Bowels) as is almost incredible to relate.

But the taking one Bottle of it only, demonstrates the prodigious Efficacy to every one, and the Patients soon find all Numbness, Deadness, and Shaking, or Resolutions of the Nerves, as well as all convulsive, cramp-like, or spasmodic Contractions of them, vanish and return no more; and though these Disorders have been of many Years standing, and whether occasioned by long Illness, fast Living, hard Drinking, or any other Cause; for it performs all that can be wish'd for in Nervous Cases, creates an Appetite, expels Wind, rectifies the Digestion, occasions laudable Chyle, increases the Blood and Juices, causes a free and regular Circulation of 'em thro' the Capillary Vessels, revives and invigorates the Spirits, warms, comforts, strengthens, and replenishes the Brain and whole Nervous System, hence the Sinews, Tendons, Ligaments, and all the enfeebled Parts are invigorated, the Limbs restored to their pristine Steadiness and Strength, the Palsy and all Paralytick Disorders and Nervous Decays suddenly cured by it, to the Admiration of the Patients themselves, and all about them.

This sovereign and incomparable Elixir is permitted to be sold only at Mrs. Holt's, at the Cross-Keys and Star in Cornhill, near Stock's Market, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with printed Directions.
